Chancellor Commander's Message

by C.C.Henry Gutterman

Greetings My Fellow Knights,

In lieu of my usual Message, I am enclosing a recent article from “The Times of Israel”, very thought-provoking indeed, entitled:

“Prominent NY Rabbi says Mamdani understood the fissures of our community better than Jews did.”

Rabbi Elliot Cosgrove, a prominent Jewish leader in New York City, says he is unsurprised by Jewish support for the anti-Zionist Zohran Mamdani, while calling for a different, more expansive “new chapter” of Zionism in the Jewish community.

Rabbi Cosgrove, speaking at the Biennial National Assembly of the American Zionist Movement in New York City this past December, said that Israeli policies towards the Palestinians, the rightward drift of the Israeli government, and intolerance in the American Jewish community toward different political views have contributed to disaffection among young Jews.

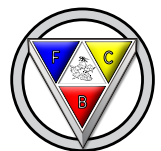

“I may be constitutionally incapable of walking away from Israel, but others have and will continue to do so, before October 7th, and all the more since. There’s a limit to the self-flagellating exercise of supporting a State that neither recognizes you nor represents your values,” Rabbi Cosgrove said.

“For Jews who grew up after the Holocaust, Israel’s claim to the land in the interest of survival was obvious, and Arab attacks on Israel sidelined concerns about Palestinian rights. That has changed due to settlements and the West Bank occupation, sometimes coupled with ignorance about the history of the conflict,” Rabbi Cosgrove further stated.

“For a progressive American Jew, if the project of Israel is to provide a homeland and security to a historically vulnerable Jewish minority, then how can the State not respond to the needs of the vulnerable minority in its midst?”

“You may not like the fact that 30% of New York City’s Jews voted for Mamdani, but you shouldn’t be surprised by it. For a liberal Zionist disillusioned by the Israeli government, Mamdani’s anti-Zionism is a difference of degree, not of kind. He understood the fissures of our community better than we ourselves did.”

“Against those who stand outside our tent, we need to hold the line. For those who seek to dwell in our tent, we must expand it. We need to do both,” Rabbi Cosgrove said.

Activities of the Triangle Association

Some think the Association is only concerned with paying out monetary death benefits and managing all of our various cemetery grounds (the latest count is that we are managing thirty-four (34) tracts of cemetery grounds within eleven (11) cemeteries throughout the Metropolitan NY & NJ area). The Association also contributes to many worthy charities on behalf of our membership and those entities are listed below alphabetically for those supported during this past year, 2025. In addition, below is a reproduction of the card that is sent out whenever an individual contributes to the Association for a specific bequest.
